

I am a listener of K-LOVE and have become aware that the FCC is considering a new broadcasting service or method which could remove K-LOVE from my area. That, in my opinion, would be a serious disservice to me and the El Paso community at large.

Generally speaking, the airwaves are filled with junk and needless commentary from ignorant folks. K-LOVE provides a positive environment for me and my family as we run errands in the car. My 4-year-old child sings along with songs that are uplifting and full of praise for Christ.

Christian or not, the people of this community are blessed by this station. It offers a safe, kid-friendly alternative to the hard-rock, rap and alternative stations and the dee-jays who come with them. Additionally, it is commercial-free which is helpful for those who do not like to listen to advertisements and will take hands off the steering wheel and eyes off the road to find something else on the dial.

Please keep K-LOVE on the air in El Paso. If the FCC wants to cater to decent folks who don't wish to see "wardrobe malfunctions" at the Super Bowl, please cater to us on the radio waves as well. There's enough garbage already. Let's keep commercial-free Christian radio on the air in El Paso for folks like me!

Thanks for the opportunity to voice my opinion.
